Hi Dave,

I found a copy of the 1974 publication "Adjuvants Decrease Insecticide Hazard to Honey Bees", and the authors were: R. F. Lagier, C. A. Johansen, M. G. Kleinschmidt, L. I. Butler, L. M. McDonough and D. S. Jackson.

I could not find a copy of the 1977 unpublished report "Bee Research Investigations" by Johansen C. et al. I am fairly certain that one of the co-authors was Dan Mayer, but there may have been other co-authors. I contacted a couple of folks at WSU in case they would be able to locate a copy of the report, but that is probably a long shot.

Hi Tom,

Since the 1977 unpublished report "Bee Research Investigations" by Johansen C. et al is cited in the EPA Ecological Effects Test Guidelines (OPPTS 850.3030), is it possible that someone at EPA would have retained a copy of the report?

Take care,

Erik

Hi Dave,

I haven't found anything yet, but still need to look through some old files of dad's, which will take awhile. Is tomorrow soon enough?

Take care,

Erik,

Tom Moriarity and I are trying to respond to last minute queries of the publisher of the Bee Pellston Workshop book. They are asking for the full citation of one of your dad's papers--see below. I think the key question is who the "et al." authors are. Do you have copy of this paper, and can you provide the missing info?

. "Johansen C. et al. 1977. Bee Research Investigations. Dept. of Entomology, Washington State University, unpublished, p. 22."

Thanks,

Dave
